

PRODUCT DATA SHEET: REMOTE DATA HOSTING

When the time comes that a company's business software is simply not keeping up, company management quickly learns there is a lot to do. Deciding what software best meets the needs of the company, and deciding what hardware or IT staff enhancements must be made to support the new software can be a complex process. But with Navigator's Remote Data Hosting packages, all of which are managed from a secure off-site hosting facility, your decision just got easier. No IT equipment to purchase, no additional IT infrastructure to recruit. Just get up & running on SAP.
